A Word About Our Main Attractions:

We try to play each of the films on these two pages as soon as possible. Sometimes, however, because of scheduling conflicts or problems with print availability, we are unable to play a film before its video release. (The “theatrical window” is getting shorter and shorter.) We apologize for when this happens. Know that it is our top priority to play as many great films for you as possible. For more information, visit our website. Thank you.

The Flight of the Red Balloon

France – 1 hr 55 min – Hsiao-hsien Hou with subtitles

Juliette Binoche plays a single mom who must balance her job and a preteen son in this quiet and subtle French film. It explores modern-day Paris as well as the artistry of the 1956 French classic, The Red Balloon, from which this film takes its primary poetic imagery. Flight is graceful, and insightful, and a joy to watch.

American Teen

USA – 1 hr 40 min – Nanette Burstein

This spirited film documents a year in the lives of four Indiana high school seniors. Entertaining and briskly paced, it’s hard to believe that AMERICAN TEEN is actually, yes, a documentary. It unfolds more like a tightly written drama, complete with rooting/hissing interest in its principal subjects – the jock, the popular girl, the artsy girl and the geek. A big hit at Sundance, this promises to be a real crowd-pleaser.

Choke

USA – 1 hr 32 min – Clark Gregg

CHOKE is a wickedly dark satire about (among other things) sexual compulsion and the sordid underbelly of Colonial theme parks. Sam Rockwell plays a med school dropout who is an “historical interpreter” by day. At night he pretends to choke in upscale restaurants in order to manipulate the wealthy patrons who “save” him. And that’s just the start of this wild and raunchy comedy based on the writing of Chuck Palahniuk.

Mongol

Russia/Mongolia – 2 hrs 6 min – Sergei Bodrov - with subtitles

This spectacular production tells the story of Genghis Khan from childhood to his rise to power. Shot on location in Kazakhstan and Inner Mongolia, MONGOL captures the nomadic life of the 12th century as well as the harsh climate and terrain of the Mongolian Steppe. The performances are riveting and the storytelling fast paced, particularly during the chases and battle sequences.

Priceless

France – 1 hr 44 min – Pierre Salvadori with subtitles

Taking its cue from recent French comedies like The Valet and My Best Friend, PRICELESS is an amusing comedy of errors in which a gold-digging siren (Amelie’s Audrey Tautou) mistakes an unsuspecting bartender for a wealthy prospective suitor. Shot in the sun-drenched French Riviera, this delightful film is like a light breeze off the water.
MAIN ATTRACTIONS

Brideshead Revisited
Great Britain – Julian Jarrold
Emma Thompson and Michael Gambon are among the principal cast of this highly anticipated screen version of the Evelyn Waugh novel. Set in England between the World Wars, BRIDESHEAD focuses on the conflicted lives of an upper-class family. Superbly acted and beautifully presented, this lavishly produced film is a worthy successor to the highly praised BBC mini-series of the 1980s.

Encounters at the End of the World
USA – 1 hr 39 min – Werner Herzog
Master filmmaker Werner Herzog travels to Antarctica to make a film about the people at the McMurdo Research Station. He weaves a fascinating and amusing film about those characters, as well as about the forbidding vastness of this final frontier. Offering one arresting visual marvel after another, ENCOUNTERS shows us images that are truly profound. Highly recommended.

Hamlet 2
USA – 1 hr 34 min – Andrew Fleming
Steve Coogan stars in this amusing tale about a deluded high school teacher, who attempts to stage a career-saving Shakespeare “play”. HAMLET 2 (it’s the sequel) is rowdy, freewheeling, and more than a little irreverent. With a colorful supporting cast that includes Catherine Keener, Amy Poehler, David Arquette, and Elisabeth Shue.

Blindsight
USA – 1 hr 44 min – Lucy Walker
This engaging and likeable film is about blind Tibetan youngsters who are being helped by American mountaineers to climb a Himalayan peak. BLINDSIGHT is surprising, though, as it gradually snowballs into a compelling study of culture clash that draws into question the whole expedition. Shot in astoundingly harsh conditions, the visuals are as spectacular as you’d expect.

The Wackness
USA – 1 hr 50 min – Jonathan Levine
An indie comedy about a troubled teen and his drug-addled therapist, THE WACKNESS has a great script and decidedly self-assured performances. Ben Kingsley’s performance is particularly inspired – he plays the flamboyant shrink with great gusto. The film is both amusing and melancholy and is full of surprises.

Brick Lane
Great Britain – 1 hr 51 min – Sarah Gavron
An elegant film about the travails, conflicting emotions and quiet liberation of a Bangladeshi woman in multicultural London. BRICK LANE is a contemporary story of love, cultural difference and the strength of the human spirit. Rich and subtle in its characterizations, this fine film is touching and beautiful.
SPECIAL PROGRAMS AT 3 THEATERS. The County Theater, the Ambler Theater and Bryn Mawr Film Institute each present special film programs. Together we increase your opportunities to see classic and unusual films on the big screen. Unlike our MAIN ATTRACTIONS, these offerings are at fixed times and places (and not all offerings play at all locations), so check closely for details. Also check for updates on our websites.

The 39 Steps
1935 – 1 hr 27 min – Great Britain – b/w 35 mm – d: Alfred Hitchcock
An early British-made Hitchcock with his trademark “mistaken-man” storyline. The film’s bewildered hero eludes police in a wild chase across Scotland — all the while handcuffed to a beautiful woman. Hitchcock’s trademark use of timing, atmosphere, and comedy fully flowered in this classic.

North by Northwest
1959 – 2 hr 16 min – USA – color – 35 mm
MGM – d: Alfred Hitchcock – w/ Cary Grant, Eva Marie Saint, James Mason
The quintessential Hitchcock comedy-thriller, with bewildered businessman Cary Grant chased across the country by both spies and the police. It contains one memorable scene after another — including the United Nations murder, the crop-duster attack, and the Mount Rushmore climax.

The Treasure of the Sierra Madre
1948 – 2 hr 6 min – USA – b/w – 35 mm
Humphrey Bogart stars in this dark story of gold, greed, and human nature at its worst. Directed by John Huston with great cinematic skill, and co-starring his father, Walter Huston, as a grizzled old prospector. (They both won Academy Awards!) A memorable film.

Pat and Mike
1952 – 1 hr 35 min – USA – b/w – 35 mm
MGM – d: George Cukor – w/ Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn
Tracy and Hepburn team up again in this delightful romantic comedy. Hepburn plays a champion golfer, and Tracy a shrewd—and slightly shady—sports manager. A boisterous romp of a film that includes encounters with the mob, a dim-witted boxer, and that Tracy/Hepburn chemistry—what more do you want?
HOLLYWOOD SUMMER NIGHTS

The Miracle of Morgan’s Creek
1944 - 1 hr 39 min - USA - b/w - 35 mm
Paramount - d: Preston Sturges - w/ Betty Hutton, Eddie Bracken
An uproarious comedy from Preston Sturges about a small town girl who finds herself "in a family way" after attending a party for the boys going off to WWII. She thinks she got married, but that evening's events are all a little hazy. Sharp dialogue, amusing characters and deft slapstick make this a great American comedy. Sturges was a genius!

From Russia with Love
1963 - 1 hr 58 min - USA - color - 35 mm
United Artists - d: Terence Young - w/ Sean Connery
The second James Bond movie and possibly the best, featuring a witty and remarkably gritty plot. A beautiful Russian spy and an international crime organization are moving to steal a top-secret machine. Only a very young Sean Connery is there to stop them.

A Night at the Opera
1935 - 1 hr 36 min - USA - b/w - 35mm
MGM - d: Sam Wood - w/ The Marx Brothers
The Marx Brothers shine in this gleeful farce, which may be their best movie. Featuring their normal insanely funny physical and verbal gags, as well as an almost coherent plot (for them). From the ocean liner stateroom scene to the sanity clause to the raucous sabotage of the final opera performance, this is a satiric gem.

Jules and Jim
1962 - 1 hr 45 min - France - b/w - 35mm
d: Francois Truffaut - w/ Jeanne Moreau
French New Wave filmmaker Francois Truffaut directed this classic about the friendship of two men and a free-spirited young woman. Spanning the turn of the century through the first World War, JULES AND JIM is an unconventional and moving look at friendship and love.

Amelie
2001 - 2 hr 2 min - France - color
w/ subtitles - 35 mm - d: Jean-Pierre Jeunet
w/ Audrey Tautou
A funny, romantic and very playful film, AMELIE is about a shy shop girl in Paris who acts as a guardian angel for her eccentric neighbors. Extraordinary cinematography and a dazzling array of Parisian settings, plus a lead performance from Audrey Tautou that recalls Audrey Hepburn, make this a truly magical film.

The Asphalt Jungle
1950 - 1 hr 52 min - USA - b/w - 35mm
MGM - d: John Huston - w/ Sterling Hayden and Marilyn Monroe
A film noir of the very highest order, this b&w beauty from John Huston charts a big jewel heist planned as "a final score." As in most noirs, nothing goes as planned and nothing is what it seems. Featuring great cinematography and marvelous performances from tough guy Sterling Hayden and a luminously young Marilyn Monroe.

Breathless
1960 – 1 hr 30 min – France – b/w
w/ subtitles – 35 mm – d: Jean-Luc Godard
w/ Jean-Paul Belmondo, Jean Seberg
One of the first, and perhaps the most influential, of the French New Wave films, BREATHLESS is a groundbreaking and endlessly watchable film about a Paris hood who kills a cop and goes on the lam with his American girlfriend. It's breezy, cinematically inventive, and full of love for the movies.

The Big Lebowski
1998 – 1 hr 57 min – USA – color – 35mm
“R” - d: Joel Coen – w/ Jeff Bridges, John Goodman, Julianne Moore, John Turturro
Mark it! This Coen Brothers classic just keeps getting better. Jeff Bridges plays an aging Los Angeles hippie-type in a stoned update of Dashiell Hammett. There’s mistaken identity, a kidnapping plot, some stupifyingly colorful characters, and a ton of bowling. The Dude, Walter, Donny, Brandt, Maude, Bunny, Jackie Treehorn, Jesus Quintana, the Big Lebowski, and “the rug that ties the room together” – they’re all here, man. If you will it, Dude, it is no dream!

It's a Wonderful Life
1946 – 2 hr 10 min – USA – b/w – 35 mm
RKO – d: Frank Capra – w/ James Stewart, Donna Reed
It’s Christmas in July with this perennial favorite – the classic Capra film about small town values and the American spirit. An angel stops Jimmy Stewart from ending his life and shows him the true value of his life. See it on the big screen – it’s even better.

All that Heaven Allows
1955 – 1 hr 29 min – USA – color – 35mm
Universal – d: Douglas Sirk – w/ Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson
In this classic melodrama from Douglas Sirk, Jane Wyman stars as a suburban widow who is scorned by her neighbors and children when she becomes romantically involved with a younger man. Highly stylized and featuring amazing Technicolor, HEAVEN carries its razor sharp social commentary just below the surface.

Blue Velvet
1986 – 2 hr – USA – color – 35 mm – “R” d: David Lynch – w/ Kyle MacLachlan, Isabella Rossellini, Laura Dem, Dennis Hopper
In David Lynch’s unsettling tale of suburbia, an investigation is launched after a young man discovers a severed human ear in a vacant field. With an all-star cast that includes Kyle MacLachlan, Isabella Rossellini, and a memorable Dennis Hopper, BLUE VELVET pries open an alternate reality of dread and evil that lurks just beneath the surface of everyday life.

Roman Holiday
1953 – 1hr 58 min – USA – b/w – 35 mm
Paramount – d: William Wyler – w/ Audrey Hepburn, Gregory Peck
ROMAN HOLIDAY is a charming romantic comedy made memorable by its superb lead performances. Audrey Hepburn plays a princess on an official visit to Rome who slips away and falls in love with an American newspaperman played by Gregory Peck. Hepburn is especially luminous in the role that made her a star.

Annie Hall
1977 ~ 1 hr 33 min ~ USA ~ color ~ 35mm
United Artists ~ d: Woody Allen ~ w/ Woody Allen, Diane Keaton
One of the few comedies to win the Oscar for Best Picture, ANNIE HALL is the unforgettable story of the meeting, romance, and eventual break-up of a neurotic comedian and a lovably ditsy young woman. Lauded for its unconventional narrative and wonderful dialogue, this film has influenced scores of romantic comedies that have followed.

Lawrence of Arabia
1962 ~ 3 hr 41 min ~ USA ~ color ~ 35 mm
Columbia ~ d: David Lean ~ w/ Peter O'Toole, Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn, Omar Sharif
LAWRENCE is a sprawling blockbuster of an epic about an adventurer's life in the Middle East. The film is exciting, spectacularly beautiful and, needless to say, was meant to be seen on the big screen. Peter O'Toole is astonishing — his piercing blue eyes and commanding presence highlight one of the most memorable performances of movie history. They just don't make them like this anymore!
